CONFESSES TO SENDING BLACKMAIL LETTERS

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 25.—(By the Associated Press)—George E. Long, veteran clerk in the war department, and, according to the police, confessed, author of the blackmail letters recently received by Henry White, former ambassador to France, and several women prominent in Washington society, was tendered to the needs of a seriously ill wife and his three children at their home today to which he was permitted to return several minutes after the alleged confession was drawn from him at police headquarters yesterday. No complaint had been lodged against him today for sending the letters, which demanded large sums of money under threat of death, and the police said none would be filed unless those who received the letters showed a disposition to press the charges against him.

The authority of the letters was traced by a peculiarity in the handwriting, police said, and by a water mark used in war department stationery. Long, whose reported confession followed two hours of questioning, after he was taken into custody at his home yesterday, according to the police, said:

"I don't know why I wrote the letters; but I was anxious to see the children of the city provided for and I thought these rich people might help."

He added, the police said, that he never went to the places where he had directed the money to be sent and "would not have touched it."

To Replace The Marine Mail Guards

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 25.—Replacement of marine mail guards is a specially recruited force of men from the department is now being carried out by the postoffice department, it was stated today by postal officials. Officials said it was expected that within a short time all mailings now engaged in guarding the mails would be withdrawn. The civilian guards are being carefully selected and will form a permanent service, it was asserted.

Marines were detailed to guard the mails and post offices in all parts of the country last November following a series of mail robberies and information of others planned on a large scale, but it was said at that time they would be withdrawn in favor of civilian guards as soon as such an organization could be perfected. Since the mail guards have been on duty robberies have decreased and post office officials have been highly pleased with the result.

"Bluebeard Of Gambais" Pays Penalty For His Crimes Under Guillotine

VERSAILLES, February 25.—(By the Associated Press)—Henri Landru, bluebeard of Gambais, convicted of the murder of ten women and one youth, gave his life this morning in exchange for the eleven minutes of the guillotine fell at 6:05 o'clock, twenty-five minutes after the time originally set for the execution, the delay causing many to express the erroneous opinion that Landru was making a confession.

Made No Confession
Mysteriously until death, Landru resented Father Laiselles' query as to whether he had any confession to make.

"It is an insult to a man like me," was his reply. "Had I any confession to make I would have made it long ago," but never did he utter the word "innocent," as he had failed to utter it during his thirty-four months of imprisonment and the twenty-one days of his trial.

Refused The Sacrament
He refused the sacrament, but conversed a few moments with the priest.

"I shall be brave, never fear," he told the clergyman.

Although plans for the execution had been kept in the utmost secrecy, crowds began to gather about the old Versailles jail a little after midnight. The guillotine was erected only a few feet from the main entrance of the jail. At six o'clock the doors of the prison opened slowly, revealing in the court yard the procurator general, the warden of the prison and Landru's two lawyers, M. M. Moreau-Glafford and Dutreuil.

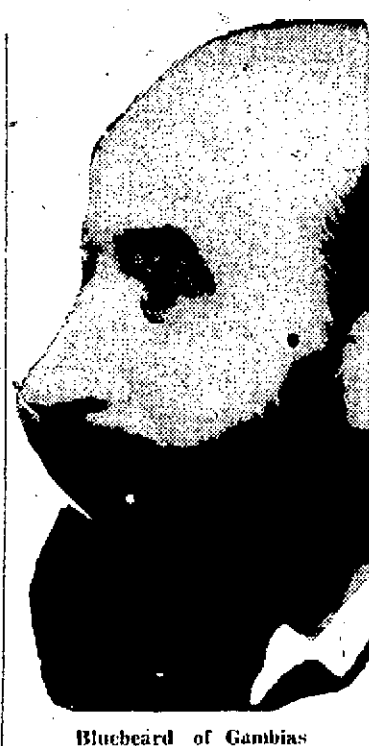

"Bluebeard" Deadly Pale
Then Landru appeared, clad in dark trousers and white shirt. His beard, which was one of his most striking characteristics and which had become familiar to thousands through publication of his portrait during the trial, had been trimmed, his head was shaved, and his neck and face were deathly pale.

He walked exactly five steps before the executioner's assistants caught him around the waist and levelled him on the table, which was immediately up ended; the heavily weighted knife slid down and the whole affair was over in less than twenty seconds. Landru never faltered from the time he appeared in the door; he gave the guillotine one look, squared his shoulders and walked erect, uttering not a word.

The crowd, which had been kept at such a distance that it saw nothing of the details, uttered no cry, and the silence was only broken by the bagpipes sounding reveille in the nearby barracks and the Angelus bells. The platoon of cavalry, with salutes barred saluted his "martyr's man" went to his death.

Then the hundred or so newspaper correspondents and the few officials who had witnessed the execution, left the scene, while outside the lines of cavalry the citizens of Versailles and many from Paris were asking "is it all over?"

There seemed to be more pity than bitterness, and never a word of invective against the man who had just paid the penalty for a series of the foulest murders in the criminal history of France.

SCIENTISTS TO PROBE MYSTERY OF GHOST

HALEFAX, N. S., February 25.—(By the Associated Press)—A party of inquisitive scientists now threaten to break in upon the quiet of the Antigonish ghost, whose fame grows with each new thrill it causes. The exclusive wrath will make the acquaintance of a small group of distinguished men, if plans being discussed today are carried out. Dr. Walter Franklin Prince, director of the American Institute for Scientific Research, New York, has declared his intention of calling at the haunted house if he can arrange to obtain a leave of absence.

In the event Dr. Prince makes the trip he will be accompanied by a member of the Montreal Spiritualists' Society and a professor of science from one of the maritime province universities. It was announced today.

The Antigonish ghost has gotten to be quite an international affair since first heard of a few weeks ago. The haunted house is the home of Alexander MacDonald, near Clonlara Mills, in a little-inhabited valley deep in the mountains and woods. Mr. MacDonald, his wife and her adopted daughter fled the place in terror in the dead of winter, with weird tales of ghostly tampering and a series of inexplicable fires.

The tale obtained wide credence, and the provincial police sent a detective to the place. He was accompanied by a newspaper man, the two taking up their residence in the MacDonald house for three nights, fleeing it finally with a vertiginous tale of being snatched in the night by hands that didn't seem to be attached to anything in particular. Now comes the call for scientific investigation.

Held For An Illegal Operation

TOLEDO, O., February 25.—(By the Associated Press)—C. S. Emery, a prominent Toledo physician, is under arrest here today on an indictment charging the performance of an illegal operation.

Two deaths in the last 14 days are attributed to Emery's treatment. He was out on a $5,000 bond under a similar charge, when arrested for the second time yesterday.

A third charge may be placed against the doctor as a result of an investigation, now being conducted into the death of a woman in a hospital here yesterday, who just before she died is declared to have made a statement to hospital authorities to the effect that Emery had performed an illegal operation.

Emery is more than 60 years old.

Miss Normand Is Improving

LOS ANGELES, CAL., February 25.—(By the Associated Press)—Continued improvement of Mabel Normand, film actress, who is suffering from influenza and nervous breakdown, was predicted early today by her physician.

DYNAMITE EXPLOSION EXCITES CHICAGOANS

CHICAGO, February 25.—Chicago and dozens of its suburbs today found out just what caused the explosion which literally shook them to their foundations and caused a frenzy of excitement last night. Thirty tons of dynamite let go in a stone quarry southwest of the city shortly before nine o'clock and hundreds of thousands of alarmed residents went to bed not knowing just what had happened to shake them up, damage property and give rise to rumors and reports of concerted bombing squads, an earthquake, a falling meteor and disaster to some of the major manufacturing plants.

While the police and newspaper offices were flooded with hundreds of inquiries and thousands of frightened persons were trying to find the source of the blast, the Associated Press, through a curious coincidence, was able to give the first authentic news of the explosion.

A Monon railroad signal tower at Dyer, Ind., received definite word of the blast, and this was relayed to the Monon dispatcher at LaFayette, Ind., whence it was transmitted to a LaFayette newspaper and the word of the explosion on the edge of Chicago came back to the city over the Associated Press wires.

In spite of the large area affected by the blast, only one man was seriously injured, although scores were cut by glass and shaken and bruised, some of them living miles from the scene.

The McCook quarry of the Consumers Company, about eleven miles from Chicago's downtown district, contained two powder magazines where dynamite was stored to thaw out and dry. In each magazine 600 cases of dynamite were stored. The cause of the explosion probably never will be known. The damages caused by the explosion is estimated at thousands of dollars.

Patrolman Michael Forgan, of Argo, Ill., was probably fatally wounded early today when he was shot through the head while standing guard in front of the Summit State Bank, the windows of which had been shattered by the explosion of dynamite in McCook quarry nearby.

The shooting was done by several men who drove up to the bank in an automobile and fled when Forgan fell. Argo police believe they intended to rob the bank, but became frightened.

Autoists On Rampage

CLEVELAND, O., February 25.—(By the Associated Press)—Three speeding motorists wrecked their auto on a trolley pole at University Circle shortly before midnight after crashing into two other machines and a street car and narrowly missing half a dozen groups of persons in a 45 mile an hour dash on Euclid avenue. Police declare they were intoxicated. In the final crash the three men were severely cut and bruised.

The driver of the car, who gave his name as William F. Seher, is charged with driving while intoxicated and his two companions, giving their names as Bert Braun and Arthur Burgett, are charged with intoxication. All three gave Lorain as their home.

No Credence In Confession Of Fields

LOS ANGELES, CAL., February 25.—(By the Associated Press)—Interest resulting from the "confession" of Harry N. Fields in Detroit, as to certain alleged details of the murder of William Desmond Taylor, film director, was subsiding here today, with outspoken expressions by officials of their disbelief in Fields' statements. They declared they had been unable to substantiate any of the allegations Fields made to the Detroit authorities.

The investigation resolved itself locally largely into a resumption by the police of running to ground the "tips" on the mystery that were said to be reaching the various officials as frequently as during the days immediately after the discovery of Taylor's body on February 2.

Robbed By Fake "Good Samaritans"

NEW YORK, February 25.—(By the Associated Press)—Police today were seeking "good samaritans" who assisted two New York business men who were robbed of gems and currency amounting to more than $153,000 when they fell unconscious in fainting spells.

Leo Sherman, diamond importer, fainted in the Times Square subway. When he awakened in Bellevue Hospital some time later, he announced he had been robbed of diamonds which he said were worth $75,000.

The name of the second victim has not been made known. The police say he suffered an attack of vertigo after leaving a brokerage office from which he had withdrawn $78,000. Dussersy carried him into a doorway and he was revived. One of his "benefactors," police say, made away with the money and a diamond enamel pin, while the man was unconscious.

70-Year-Old Ex-Senator To Marry

CHICAGO, February 25.—(By the Associated Press)—Lee Muntle, 70, former United States senator from Montana, admitted today that he and Miss Etta Daly, 25, a recent graduate from the University of Nebraska, will be married within the next few days. The marriage license was taken out here yesterday.

None of Mr. Muntle's friends in Butte, Montana, his home, have been informed of the approaching wedding, he said.

"It's going to be a shock to some of my old cronies," he said. "I have a reputation as a non-marrying man. It's purely a love affair."

Delay The Genoa Parley

MOSCOW, Feb. 25.—(By Associated Press)—The soviet foreign minister, M. Litvinov, has received a note from the Marquis Della Torretta saying that because of an Italian ministerial crisis it will be impossible to hold the Genoa conference on March 8 as planned. The note added that the Italian government was getting in touch with the others who will participate in the conference and endeavoring to fix a definite date.

Harding Favors Navy Minimum Of 80,000

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 25.—(By the Associated Press)—President Harding is understood to have told Republican members of the house naval committee at a White House conference today that while he felt some reduction should be made in the navy personnel, the total number of enlisted men ought not to be cut under 80,000.

The president also is said to have strongly urged legislation for conversion of two battle cruisers into airplane carriers. While the question as to whether the 540 members of the first year class at Annapolis, to be graduated in June, should be commissioned, was not considered in detail, it was stated, that the president advocated a sharp reduction in the number of men to be admitted to the academy each year in the future.

Protection For Blind Residents

DENVER, COLO., February 25.—(By the Associated Press)—Blind residents of Denver soon will be assured of safe passage across busy streets by means of commanding blasts on police whistles which will be furnished to them free by the city, according to Jim Goodheart, head of the city's department of public welfare. When a blind person blows his whistle, traffic officers will see that all traffic is suspended until the blind pedestrian is safely across, Goodheart said.

How Much May Husband Flirt? "Nothing In Treaty Means Alliance"

MRS. CATHERINE ROSIER AND, BELOW, OSCAR ROSIER, WHO IS ACCUSED OF HAVING MURDERED.

PHILADELPHIA—Where does harmless pleasure end and serious flirtation begin between a man and his stenographer?

This question will be answered when Mrs. Catherine Rosier, 23 years old and mother of a 4-month-old baby, goes on trial for her life Feb. 27.

The young mother on Jan. 22 went to the office of her husband, Oscar Rosier, president of an advertising agency, and shot and killed him and his 19-year-old stenographer, Mildred G. Reckitt.

Drama of a sensational kind is forecast in the trial, staged against Mrs. Rosier, supporting the prosecution, will be the murdered man's brother, Arthur Rosier, and an attorney representing the dead man's interests.

Jealousy Charged
The latter, Attorney Frank H. Cehrenk says: "Mrs. Rosier was jealous of every woman employed by her husband."

If this is to be the basis of the prosecution's fight for the young mother's conviction, a sharp line will be drawn in the harmless pleasure of the advertising man's relations with his stenographer.

Every effort will be made, it is said, to clear the reputations of the two victims.

On the other side, seeking to save Mrs. Rosier's life, will be former Congressman John R. Scott, one of the most noted criminal lawyers in the state. While he refuses to reveal the defense, it is understood that it will be "emotional insanity."

Goaded to Madness
To establish this it is believed that Rosier flirted with his stenographer and with other women, which goaded his wife to the point where she lost control of herself.

Young, pretty, with a beautiful home in the suburbs of Philadelphia, and the mother of a chubby, blue-eyed boy, Mrs. Rosier apparently had everything to make her happy. Some dreamed of the disappointment which she now says had entered her life.

Immediately after the double killing in her husband's office, Mrs. Rosier made this statement, according to the testimony of a witness at the coroner's inquest:

"While I was in the hospital with my baby three months ago, they were running around together; when I came this afternoon I caught them."

Rosier and Miss Reckitt died within a few hours after the shooting, both protesting their innocence of any wrong doing.

Lying on the operating table in the hospital a few minutes before he died, Rosier dictated and signed a will leaving his entire estate to his brother and his 11-year-old son, Oscar, Jr., by his former wife.

Since the shooting Mrs. Rosier has been held in Moyamensing Prison, released only on three occasions, to attend her husband's funeral, to appear at the coroner's inquest, and to hear the judge set a date for her trial.

"Nothing In Treaty Means Alliance"

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 25.—The four-power Pacific treaty, together with its supplements and a reservation, and the naval limitation and submarine treaties were ordered favorably reported today by the senate foreign relations committee.

The reservation attached by the committee to the four-power pact embodies the compromise suggested after conferences with President Harding and declares that nothing in the treaty shall be construed as forming an "alliance." It was approved by a ten to three vote.

Also by a division of ten to three, with Senators Borah, Idaho, and Johnson, California, Republicans, and Shields, Democrat, Tennessee, voting in the negative. The four-power treaty then was ordered reported to the senate. The vote by which the naval limitation and submarine treaties were favorably reported was unanimous.

Soviet Holds Hostages For Its Envoys

MOSCOW, Feb. 25.—(By Associated Press)—In order to insure return to Russia of a delegation sent to Genoa, only those persons who have families or possessions that may be considered good hostages or guarantees will be allowed to go there. The soviet has had too many examples of its agents willing to work abroad, but unwilling to return. Several agents will accompany the delegation under the guise of secretaries to insure the good conduct and return of the delegates.

The example of the death of M. Dravlin by assassination in Afghanistan last summer is held as a warning to slackers that the communist discipline will be upheld and that its arm is long. Dravlin, a Bolshevik leader, went there as an ambassador, with 2,000,000 gold rubles, but declined to return when ordered. It was believed that he had entered into close relations with British agents or that he wished to keep a part of the gold.

Bull Attacks Red Auto

TOPEKA, KAN., February 25.—(By the Associated Press)—Fred Knudson, a farmer, today appealed to the state superintendent of insurance for aid in collecting collision insurance on his automobile. Knudson in his complaint states that he painted his automobile red, that a bull at a public sale at Orlow, Kansas, attacked it and that the insurance company refused even to consider his claim.

General Carr's Condition Better
DURHAM, N. C., February 25.—(By the Associated Press)—The condition of General Julian S. Carr, commander in chief, United Confederate Veterans, who has been seriously ill with influenza at his home here since Sunday, was much improved today, it was stated at the office of his secretary.

Sent To Lancaster Home

At a hearing in juvenile court Friday, Orley Boles, Ray Brown and Harry Perkins, trio of Scioto Fairness youths, were ordered committed to the Lancaster Industrial school by Judge Gilliland under delinquency complaints, and a fourth youth, Jesse Stephens, was ordered to pay the costs. The evidence adduced strongly indicated the youths were generally incorrigible and as the first three had been in trouble before and were already wards of the court, Judge Gilliland decided they were not entitled to another chance.

Piketon Mayor "Comes Back" With Warrant For Two Officers' Arrest

Today the third chapter of the Mayor Grant Bateman and son, George Bateman, of Piketon and Waverly officers story was enacted when Marshal Dudley Markham of Piketon, armed with warrants from Mayor Bateman's court, went to Waverly and served the papers on Deputy Marshals Elmer Farmer and Charles Knapp and took them to Piketon, where they appeared before Mayor Bateman. Farmer was charged with carrying concealed weapons and threatening to shoot George Bateman, while Knapp was charged with carrying concealed weapons.

Both men waived examination when they appeared before the Piketon mayor and they were held to the grand jury on $500 bonds, which were furnished by James Robinson, former county commissioner of Waverly. Mayor Bateman contends that the officers do not have the right to carry weapons as they have not put up a bond according to law. Both officers claim they have put up bonds of $100 each, approved by Mayor Smith and Village Solicitor C. M. Caldwell. Thursday Marshal Lewis Robinson and Deputy Marshals Farmer and Knapp arrested Mayor Bateman and son George on charges of selling, furnishing and delivering intoxicating liquor. Friday afternoon they appeared before Mayor Smith of Waverly and pleaded not guilty and their case was set for trial in Mayor Smith's court March 2. Mayor Bateman during the hearing Friday afternoon protested that Officers Farmer and Knapp did not have any right to arrest them or carry guns. He followed these protests by issuing warrants for the arrest of the officers this morning after his son George signed the legal papers.

Chevrolet Sales And Storage Rooms Are Imperiled By Fire In Flat

Slight damage was caused by a fire which at the start at 6:20 last evening threatened the Chevrolet sales and storage room for Chevrolet automobiles at Second and Chillicothe street. The fire was in the kitchen of the flat over the sales room and the fact that only slight damage resulted is due to the good work of Mr. Glockner and his son, Edward Glockner, who tried to extinguish the fire with a hand chemical before the arrival of the firemen. Their work with the chemicals prevented the flames from spreading and when the firemen arrived on the scene they did not have much trouble in putting out the fire with a stream from a chemical line.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Davidson reside in the flat. Mr. Davidson was away from home and Mrs. Davidson was in the front room facing Second street when the fire started. She discovered the fire in a closet in the kitchen when she returned to the kitchen after completing her work in the front room. Mrs. Caroline Minnery of Front street was passing and Mrs. Davidson's first calls to her were not noticed by Mrs. Minnery whose attention was attracted when Mrs. Davidson threw a clothes brush to the sidewalk near Mrs. Minnery. Mrs. Davidson told her to tell Mr. Glockner of the fire and she stepped into the home of Edward Glockner next door to the salesroom and notified him and then informed Alex Glockner who was at his home several doors east of the salesroom. Edward Glockner went to the flat with a small extinguisher but it was too small to prove very effective. He was later followed by his father and another man, Mr. Glockner carrying a big hand chemical. The man with him was driven back by dense smoke but Mr. Glockner crawled to a spot near the fire before he brought the chemical into play. The fire which had its origin in a closet in the kitchen, had gained considerable headway by this time but the chemical poured on by Mr. Glockner checked the flames. They were eating their way into the attic when the firemen arrived and extinguished the blaze without much trouble. The attic and flat had filled with smoke and for a while the big crowd that gathered expected flames to shoot through the roof. It took some minutes for the smoke to escape from the attic, the firemen remaining on the job until all danger was past. Mr. Glockner suffered a badly burned hand while fighting the flames. While the firemen were busy Albert Heilmann directed the work of moving out the several new Chevrolet machines that were in the store room under the flat. Smoke also got into the upstairs rooms of Edward Glockner's home and some household furnishings were moved from the upstairs to prevent possible damage by smoke and water. Furniture in the kitchen was damaged. Mr. Davidson carries $700 insurance on his household goods. Mr. Glockner who owns the building also has his loss covered by insurance. Fire Chief Leedom investigated after the fire but was unable to determine the origin.

Hazlebeck Will Insure You.

"Pick" On Unfortunates

George Shy, of Shyville, Pike county, was in the city on business Friday and while here talked of the mysterious fire that visited his section early this week. According to Mr. Shy, residents of that section are at a loss to know why any one would pick out the unfortunate people whose property was destroyed. A corn crib, chicken coop and barn owned by George McDaniel, was destroyed in two nights. Mr. McDaniel is almost blind and his wife is suffering with paralysis. The family is very unfortunate and residents of that community do not see why a firebug picked on them.

Miss Jessie M. Nicolet, Stockdale, and Elmer D. Balsiger were quietly married yesterday at the home of Rev. C. E. Chandler. The single ring ceremony was used, and there were no attendants. The couple will live on the grog's farm in Madison township.

Fifty members of the Ruth Sisters of the United Brethren Church attended a social session held at the home of Miss Ruth Streich, Sixth street last night. An impromptu program of vocal and instrumental selections was followed by a social hour. Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

Chalmers McConnell has returned to Cincinnati after a several days' visit with his mother, Mrs. T. C. McConnell, Nineteenth street.

Misses Grace and Zelma Doll are spending the week-end at their home in Lucasville.

OBITUARY

Mrs. J. D. Kiser

The Bartlesville, Okla., Daily Enterprise recently contained the following biographical sketch of Mrs. J. D. Kiser (nee Miss Jennie Butterfield), a former resident of Hillsboro, who died at Bartlesville, February 7th. The Enterprise also carried an excellent likeness of Mrs. Kiser.

In the year 1861 John Butterfield and Ellen J. Rankin were united in marriage and to them were born four children, three dying in early childhood; the surviving child, Jennie, the biographical sketch. She was born in Hillsboro, Ohio, March 10, 1847 and died at her home in Bartlesville, Okla., early Tuesday morning, February 7th, at the age of 84 years, 10 months and 26 days. Death came very unexpectedly and after a brief illness of less than one hour. The day previous to her death she appeared in her usual good health, and late in the afternoon of Monday, February 6th, she was resting peacefully. She showed no signs whatever of anything unusual or strange in her physical condition. Ere the morning dawned her spirit had been released from its earthly home and gone into the presence of God.

The deceased was married to Dr. J. D. Kiser on May 3, 1862, and to them was born one child, Genevieve, who with the husband and a half-brother, John Butterfield of Hillsboro, Ohio, were bereaved of her death.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Ruggles
Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Ruggles was called by her Master Thursday afternoon after being seriously ill for several weeks. Death was caused by complications and infirmities, she being 81 years of age. She passed to her rest at the home of her daughter Mrs. Frank Cunningham of Sandy Springs, Adams county.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Ruggles was born, and spent most of her early life at Valley, Lewis county, Kentucky. She was the daughter of James and Elizabeth Swearingen. Her husband, spouse Ruggles, passed away 15 years ago. She is survived by six children: Thomas Ruggles, Sandy Springs; Sherman Ruggles, Mercersville, Indiana; Oscar Ruggles, Charlottesville, Indiana; Mrs. Headley Moore, Valley, Kentucky; Mrs. Jacob Applegate, Poplar Flats, Kentucky; and Mrs. Frank Cunningham of Sandy Springs. She also leaves several relatives in this city.

During her long life she followed the teachings of her Master, and by her cheerful and friendly manner she made many friends who will be deeply grieved to hear of her death. She was a member of the Christian Church.

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon from Valley Chapel at Valley, Kentucky, where the remains were taken, and interment will be made in the cemetery there.

Capt. G. W. Davis
A long and useful career was closed at 8 p. m. Friday when death summoned Captain G. W. Davis, for many years one of the best known citizens of Fullerton, Ky., and a man who had countless friends in that community and in Portsmouth, who will be deeply grieved to learn of his passing away.

Captain Davis had been ill with influenza for several weeks and complications following caused his death. When Captain Davis developed jaundice several days ago his condition took a change for the worse and relatives were prepared for the worst.

Had Captain Davis lived until July 31, next, he would have been 71 years of age. He was born in Paintsville, Ky., and was the son of James and Naomi Davis. In addition to his wife he is survived by the following children: Captain J. F. Davis, Fullerton; Robert, of Cincinnati; Mrs. Nora Forger, of Kingsport, W. Va.; Harry, of Carleburg, and George and Ernest at home. Two sons, Glenn and Eugene preceded their father in death.

Captain Davis also is survived by one brother, Roscoe of Van Lear, Ky., and the following sisters: Mrs. Elizabeth Ford of Auxier, Ky.; Mrs. Tress Childers, Mrs. James Spradlin and Mrs. Warren Auxier of Van Lear, Ky.; Mrs. Melvin Hall and Mrs. C. C. Price of Melfinville, Ky.; and Mrs. R. W. Akers of 2221 Seventh street, this city.

Captain Davis was a river man all his life and was well and favorably known from Pittsburgh to Cincinnati.

He had always owned a boat of some character and for a long time was interested in the upper ferry boat. During the latter years of his life he devoted most of his time to timber and real estate business in and around Fullerton. For a number of years he made an annual pilgrimage to Florida, but he had to forego this pleasure this year owing to illness in his family. Captain Davis was a member of the I. O. O. F. Lodge and was a convert to Billy Sunday's famous campaign in this city. He was always square in his dealings and made friends wherever he went. He was whole-souled, congenial and companionable and the news of this good citizen's passing away will be learned of with genuine sorrow.

Captain Davis was a man thorough and through and loved to mingle with men. He was always successful in business and during his lifetime had amassed his share of this world's goods.

He was a man whose judgment was frequently sought and it was always cheerfully and honestly given. Captain Davis was widely known in Lewis, Greenup and Bath counties, Kentucky.

The funeral services will be conducted from the home in Fullerton at 2 p. m. Sunday and burial will be in the family burying ground at Frost, Ky.

William Hunt

William Hunt, aged 65, long a prominent and influential citizen of Fullerton, passed away at his home in that village at six o'clock Friday evening. He had been seriously ill for several weeks and his death did not come unexpectedly to loved ones and friends.

In addition to his faithful wife, Mr. Hunt leaves two sons, Leslie of Fullerton, and who is employed in this city, and Dr. A. P. Hunt, well known Fullerton surgeon and physician. While Mr. Hunt had retired as a cattle dealer, he evidenced much interest in the welfare of Fullerton and was always ready and willing to do anything that would benefit the town or its people. He owned considerable land in and around Fullerton and his death is a distinct loss to the community. Mr. Hunt was a man of progressive ideas, was an affectionate husband and an indulgent father and will be missed.

The funeral services will be held in the M. E. Church in Fullerton at 1 p. m. Sunday. Burial will take place in the Frost, Ky., cemetery.

Miss Kate Wynn
The funeral services of Miss Kate Wynn, 64, were held yesterday at her home with Rev. E. H. Ritchie in charge. Miss Wynn with her sister Sallie were partners in the hotel business in Greenup for years and were well known throughout the entire tri-state region. She is survived by her sister Sallie who will continue to manage the hotel. The Rooms House.

Interment in the Riverside Cemetery under the management of the Standard Undertaking Co. of Greenup, Ky. Those acting as pallbearers were Chas. Schmitz, A. V. Pollock, C. F. Taylor, Trave Kendall, Chas. Taylor, Vernon Caillan, all life long friends of the deceased. The flower bearers were Earl Nickle, C.

B. Bennett, Edwin Kiern, W. J. McKee. The singers were Edith Leslie, Ruth Callahan, J. E. Pollock, U. B. Bennett and Fannie Koxer.—Ironton Register.

Fail To Send Children To School; Fined

Philip Davis and John Bessley, hearings in probate court Friday of both of Lucasville, and Oscar Bowles, failing to send their children to school, were convicted at school.

Davis drew a fine of $5, which he paid and was released from custody, but Bowles was sent to jail because he had no funds to pay the fine imposed. Judge Gilliland continued Bessley's case and gave him another chance on his promise to cause his children to attend school regularly in the future.

The men were brought into court on complaints filed by A. B. Fenton, county attendance officer.

Agricultural Notes

EDITORIAL NOTE.—The Times has arranged for an agricultural department in each issue of The Saturday Times. The articles will be written by an expert and we unhesitatingly advise their careful reading. They may be of great profit to you.

The committee appointed at the yearly meeting of the Farm Bureau, together with a committee from the different granges in the county, to look after the readjustment of values of farm lands for taxation to conform more nearly with the proceeds at the present time, met at the auditor's office Thursday, the 23rd, and discussed the matter thoroughly. After the auditor explained that the plans and maps from which a new reappraisal would have to be made have been in use for many years, and are inadequate to correctly make a reappraisal, and that the time is entirely too short to correct these maps and plans so as to have a reappraisal affect the coming December taxes, and further that he would begin at once to get his office in readiness, and gladly make a new reappraisal in any taxing district, which means each township and municipal corporation, if so requested by November of this year, to affect taxes due and payable in December, 1922, and thereafter, the committee adjourned for action on November first.

Fear Small Crop of Ohio Apples in 1922

(Spraying Urged)

Because of the small fruit crop last year, many Ohio farmers neglected to spray. Because they neglected to spray, their trees have suffered extraordinarily heavy attacks from scale insects and leaf fungi, particularly from the frog eye leaf spot and apple scab and this is likely to very materially reduce the apple crop this year.

This sums up the most serious finding of a report on plant diseases in Ohio during 1921, now being prepared by E. E. Clayton, extension plant pathologist of the Ohio State University. Mr. Clayton says he is forced to the belief that farmers have still to take losses from last year's fruit crop failure, because this encouragement and lack of funds led many to neglect their trees, sometimes in the belief that since there were no apples, insects and bacteria could not reduce the crop. However, the next year's crop may be reduced very effectively by attack on the foliage by lessening the vitality of the tree. In mid-July Mr. Clayton states that he saw orchards, particularly in Scioto county, where leaf spot had stripped the trees of leaves to about the same extent as is usual in September. Such conditions, in varying degree, seem to have been general throughout the state.

Questioned as to their observations along this line, field men of the University's horticultural department said that leaf fungi is widespread and severe, that it is likely to reduce the 1922 crop to some extent, but that the condition is probably not confined to Ohio. They urge that, starting with the winter dormant application, Ohio farmers at once resume their normal spraying schedule, and get back into the anti-pest fight with all their powers.

The time for the dormant spray is now here. However, many fruit growers prefer to apply what is known as the delayed dormant spray, which simply means that the winter dormant spray for the scale insects is applied as late in the spring as possible and yet avoid the burning of the foliage. The purpose of the delayed dormant spray, which may be applied up until the time the leaves are as large as a squirrel's ear, is not only to control scale insects but to destroy the eggs of the various plant orphans which frequently do considerable damage.

Bulletins may be secured at the farm bureau office giving in detail the time to spray, what to spray for and materials to use on all kinds of fruit.

Dress Form Work

The greatest difficulty of home dressmaking is fitting one's self. In view of this fact the farm women of Scioto county have taken steps to overcome this difficulty by making dress form work one of the big projects in this year's Farm Bureau community work. At a recent meeting of leaders of this project held in the assembly room of the Security Bank, Miss Alma Garvin of the Ohio State University taught twenty-three ladies representing twelve of the fifteen organized communities how to make an inexpensive dress form which is a perfect likeness of the figure by using a hat and undershirt as a foundation and covering it with several layers of gummed paper. Those present were Mesdames A. H. Jones, Olway community; S. C. Selby and Frank Oakes, Haverhill; Chas. Helt and Elmer Moore, Sunshine; John Gabbler, South Webster; Frank Adams, Medes; C. S. Gilliland and Lucy Pullerton, Madison; L. O. Kennedy, Nile; John Willey and D. Clarke, Union township; Gaylord Preston, Jefferson; J. W. Springs, J. F. Woodruff and J. C. Andre, Lucasville; W. K. Burke and Ed Ranshous, Wheelersburg; John D. Oakes and John Hemminger, Empire Grange, and Misses Lena Snyder, Minford; Pearl Moutz, Empire Grange, and Agnes Medels.

These ladies will hold demonstrations in their respective communities where their neighbors may learn to make this valuable yet inexpensive dress form. Arrangements have just been made whereby all material needed in making a dress form may be secured at Brandon's Book Store, corner Third and Chillicothe street for the sum of ninety cents. This material will be placed in stock just as quickly as is possible to do so which should be sometime within the next week.

Anyone living in a community not represented by one of the above mentioned persons may secure information at the farm bureau office relative to the time that demonstrations will be held in the different communities if they care to attend one.

It is the opinion of the ladies who attended the demonstration given by Miss Garvin that several hundred forms will be made within the next three months.

U. C. T.'s TO ENJOY SOCIAL MEETING

The United Commercial Travelers will hold one of the best meetings of the year this evening at their hall, corner Fourth and Washington Sts., starting at 7:30. In addition to several special features, and some prizes for the members, a class of ten will be initiated. After the business the members will enjoy a luncheon and snooker. Every member is urged to attend and enjoy the meeting.

Which assessment is 1.1771 per front foot of the property assessed.

SECTION 11. That the total assessment against each lot or tract of land shall be payable in cash within thirty (30) days of the date of the final passage of this ordinance, or in ten annual installments, at the option of the owner. All cash payments shall be made to the City Treasurer. All installments of assessments shall be certified by the Clerk of Council to the County Auditor, before the second Monday of September, annually, to be by him placed upon the tax duplicate and collected as other taxes are collected.

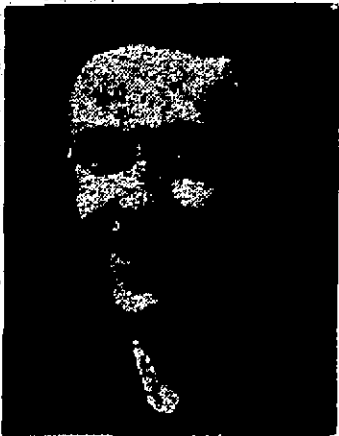

SECTION 12. That said annual assessments, and all portions thereof, shall be paid into the Sinking Fund when collected and shall be applied to the payment of bonds issued in anticipation of the collection of deferred installments of assessments and also to the payment of the interest on said bonds as the same shall become due and to no other purpose whatsoever.

SECTION 13. This Ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

Passed Feb. 16, 1922.
ATTEST: J. EARL CHANDLER, Clerk.

RICHARDS HAS RECEIVED OVER 3000 QUESTIONS

RICHARDS, THE WIZARD

At least three thousand letters written to Richards, the wizard, have been received by The Times and turned over to him for answer. Answers have been appearing in this newspaper in the order in which they have been received. Mr. Richards closes his engagement at the Sun theatre tonight and the list of questions found below is the last furnished the Times, however, Richards will be glad to answer your questions from the stage, if you are still desirous of an answer and it also will be the last opportunity to witness this great attraction, which is the finest of its nature that has appeared in a local theatre for years, as Mr. Richards carries a big production, with a large company and a special carload of effects. The following is the final list of questions and answers.

C. M. T.—Please tell me who stole my big hunting knife and how can I get it back?

Ans.—Your young brother William had the knife out with him while he and some boy friends were playing pirate by the river. They accidentally lost your knife in the water and he was afraid to tell you about it.

J. A.—What will be the sex of my next child and when?

Ans.—It will be a boy between the 23rd and 27th of this coming September.

E. L.—Was my wife with a man on Christmas, 1920, and is she true to me now?

Ans.—She was in the company of a man on that night, but her actions were ladylike and you really have no legitimate reasons for doubting her faithfulness.

N. O. D.—Does the fellow I go with love me and will we ever marry?

Ans.—He really cares a great deal for you and with the proper encouragement will make you a very good investment.

M. R.—Will my copper stock ever field me anything, or shall I sell?

Ans.—Would advise you to hold on to this stock as it will increase in value considerably during the year 1923.

J. S.—What is the best thing to help my health?

Ans.—The only thing that will really help you is a complete change of climate, and would advise that you try New Mexico, as this is a very desirable climate for persons troubled with asthma.

M. R.—What caused the death of my brother-in-law who died one year ago?

Ans.—His death was caused by something taken internally, by mistake and was not the fault of any person.

W. C. J.—I have been going with a girl for a little over a year and love her with all my heart, does she love me or not?

Ans.—She is really very fond of you, and if you will change your course of conduct you will be able to win her hand in marriage.

M. B.—Is my oldest son still living? We have not heard of him for ten years or more.

Ans.—He is at this time living at 424 East 140th street, New York City, and is employed in that neighborhood on a street car line.

Mrs. N. M. B.—Is my husband true to me, where does he go at night?

Ans.—He is as true as the average man married as long as he has been, and spends his time, idling away with his men friends as a rule. I would advise that you use your influence to get him to change his associates.

S. A. W.—Will I make good if I go West to work in cities?

Ans.—This move is very advisable as you will have an opportunity to do very well through it, and I would advise that you take advantage of it.

E. P.—Where is my sterling silver? It is lost or just misplaced?

Ans.—If you will look in the corner behind the door of the room in which you keep your sewing machine, you will find your thing where it rolled after falling off the machine.

D. W. P.—Was it useless for me to spend my time upon the fellow that I was previously acquainted with?

Ans.—It was not useless as you enjoyed the time spent with him as he did with you, but you will never mean anything more to each other than friends.

C. S.—Will my operation be successful?

Ans.—Would advise that you consult a specialist before submitting to this operation if you would insure its success, however, I see a slow convalescence for you.

E. F. S.—The girl I was engaged to turned me down. Did she love me and will I get her back?

Ans.—She enjoyed your company for a while, but never really loved you, and your separation is for the best for both of you, and I would not advise that you make any attempt to become reengaged to her.

I. M.—I have lost my lot in Oklahoma. Can I ever redeem it back?

Ans.—It is possible for you to get this lot back, but the cost would overbear the value of the property.

K. J.—Where is my daughter whom we have not heard from for ten months?

Ans.—She left home to marry the young man to whom you objected and they are now living at 436 Cincinnati street, El Paso, Texas, and mail will reach her there.

O. R.—Does the man I correspond with love me, and will we ever marry?

Ans.—This man enjoys your mail, but would never make you a suitable husband, and I would advise you do not take his letters seriously.

Mrs. C. M. H.—What became of my gold bar pin, and my ruby engagement ring missing four years?

Ans.—The party whom you suspected of taking these things was innocent, as they were lost in moving, and have since been discovered by strangers.

R. L. B.—How am I going to come out in my domestic trouble?

Ans.—This is largely due to a lack of mutual understanding, and would advise that you have a talk with your wife, and come to a better domestic agreement.

A. B. R.—Will my husband be successful in his undertakings?

Ans.—He will have fairly good success, although it will require perseverance and constant effort, and you will not be required to work at the shoe factory for very long.

R. D. C.—When will I sell my farm?

Ans.—You will have a very good opportunity during the late Spring and would advise you to accept, as you will gain nothing by waiting.

J. E. D.—Does my offended lover care for me yet and will he ever come back?

Ans.—Would advise that you forget him, as the young man who is now paying attention to you, will make a very much better husband.

Mrs. J. G.—Would I be better satisfied to move away from here, and where would I go?

Ans.—You would not be any better satisfied anywhere else, so would advise that you be patient and remain where you are, as I see that your husband will be able to obtain the position he has in view, before very long.

S. T. J.—Have been sick for over a year. What shall I do?

Ans.—Would advise that you immediately consult a specialist, and make a change of residence, preferably to the southwest, but do not take your family there until you have established yourself first.

Mrs. J. P. H.—Am I justified in leaving my husband, and will my future be brighter than the past?

Ans.—See that this difficulty can be adjusted if you will sensibly talk over matters with your husband, as you are really well liked, and your life together will be quite pleasant if you will be more determined.

J. C.—Where is my brother who left before the World War? Is he still alive?

Ans.—He served in the American Forces overseas, but was killed in a battle, but was later given proper burial.

This is Richards' final question today to readers of the Evening Times and if your answer did not appear here it was due to it not being sent in early enough as all questions were answered as nearly as possible in the order in which they were received. However, Richards shall be glad to answer your questions from the stage, or upon his private question blanks at his final performance at the Sun Theatre tonight. Some questions may be answered tomorrow.

"PERPLEXITY OF NATIONS" ITS SCRIPTURAL SIGNIFICANCE

By
Dr. P. D. Pottle, V. D. M. of
DAYTON, OHIO
EASTLAND THEATRE

Sunday, February 26th At 7:30 P. M.

Will show four reels of motion pictures depicting Bible scenes and give a descriptive lecture with the pictures. Dr. Pottle holds that the Bible evidence is clear and conclusive, that millions of people now living need never die, but that the time is now at hand when they can qualify for everlasting life right here on earth. He holds that the message of the hour is millions now living will never die, and that it is not merely a fancy to fit some fanatic religious view, nor is it a myth; it is a scriptural reality and he holds that he can prove it to reasonable minds by the evidence that the Bible holds.

Auspices International Bible Students' Association organized by the late Pastor C. T. Russell.
Judge J. F. Rutherford, New York City Bar, President.

Those unable to hear this lecture may have a copy by sending 25 cents to I. B. S. A., 812 Broadway, Portsmouth, N. H.

Woman Is Found Guilty Of Abusing Officer

It required a jury less than thirty minutes late Friday afternoon to return a verdict of guilty in the case of Myrtle Smith, prominent Powellsville woman, who was brought before Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court under an indictment for abusing and interfering with an officer.

Counsel for the defendant gave notice of the filing of a motion for a new trial and Miss Smith was released from custody under $200 bond pending disposition of the motion.

The indictment grew out of an altercation when Sheriff E. E. Ricker went to the Smith home last July armed with a writ of execution from Common Pleas court for a bill of costs upon a judgment rendered in favor of the Trustees of St. Johns Lutheran church of Powellsville against Miss Smith in an injunction suit brought to settle a dispute over a line fence between the church property and her premises.

The state claimed that Miss Smith and her sister Ada, obstructed and prevented the sheriff by force from entering the premises for the purpose of making a levy on some chickens or other property and evidence was adduced tending to support this view.

The defense denied any interference in any manner with the officer in making the levy and insisted that Sheriff Ricker brought on the difficulty and was the aggressor by making ing uncomplimentary remarks in reference to the defendant.

The evidence indicated that some vile epithets were used by both sides during the trouble which resulted in the accusation of one against the other of abuse.

Attorneys Theo. K. Funk and Eugene Smith, the latter of Huntington represented the defendant and Attorney B. F. Kinble assisted Prosecutor Sheppard in handling the prosecution.

Read what Mrs. Lucas Writes Concerning Her Troubles, which May Be Just Like Yours

St. Louis, Mo.—"I had trouble that all women are apt to have, with pains in my back, weak, tired, nervous feelings and a weak stomach. I had been this way about a year and was unable to work or stand on my feet for any length of time. My husband's aunt told me how good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done her and begged me to try it, so I did. All my pains and weakness are gone, my stomach is all right and I do my work at home and also work for Swift's Packing Company. I recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends and you may publish my letter as a testimonial." Mrs. LULU LUCAS, 799A Vandeventer St., St. Louis, Mo.

Again and again one woman tells another of the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. You who work must keep yourself strong and well. You can't work if you are suffering from such troubles. Mrs. Lucas could tell. She tried our Vegetable Compound and her letter tells you what it did for her. Give it a fair trial now.

All Must Die

Death is the penalty of Adam's sin, 1 Cor. XV 21, 22. At death the soul, the principle of life, leaves the body, and the body returns to its various elements. The body is placed in the grave, there to remain until resurrection day.

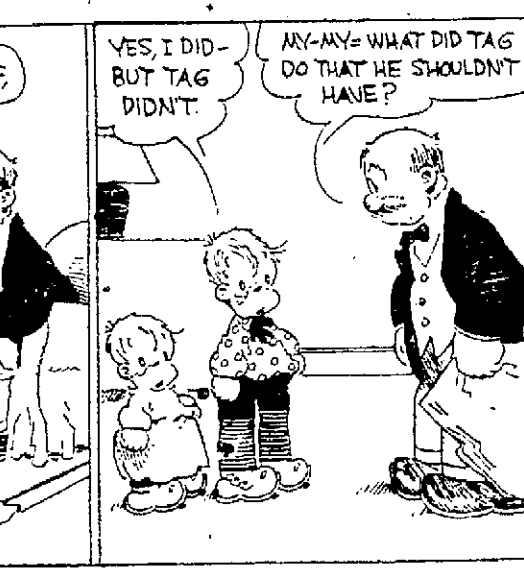

The soul, however, does not die, but appears before God, who assigns it either to heaven, hell or purgatory. After death the soul immediately begins its reward or punishment for all eternity. The body will also share in this reward or punishment after its resurrection. Death is the change from one way of existence to another. The Catholic does not believe in a millennium.

Premiers Of Britain And France To Hold Conference On Economic, Financial Parley

BOULOGNE, February 25.—(By the Associated Press)—Premier Poincare and Prime Minister Lloyd George, of Great Britain, were to meet this afternoon for the first interview on the subject of the coming international economic and financial conference.

M. Poincare's zeal to assure privacy for today's meeting has caused the waiting interview throughout France as such events have succeeded one another so rapidly in the last two years as to become rather an old story.

The premiers will have only about three hours for their first conference, which will be devoted to laying out the details or substance of a document setting forth the conditions under which the Geneva meeting shall be held.

Genoa is receiving less and less mention as the site for the international conference and the impression is gaining ground that the premiers may decide it inadvisable to hold the meeting in Italy.

Even until the arrival of the noon train from Paris, Boulogne, although proud of the honor at having the premiers meet here, was not at all sure of it, as M. Poincare was understood to have so arranged that he could change the place of meeting if pressed too closely by the crowd of reporters trailing him.

The correspondents began arriving yesterday both here and at Calais, which had also been mentioned as the site of the interview, and engaged all available automobiles so as to be able to follow the premiers to their meeting place, wherever it might be.

M. Poincare arrived at noon together with a small army of photographers and reporters who accompanied his car to the sub-prefecture.

Bare Plot To Flood Cities With Alcohol

CHICAGO, February 25.—(By the Associated Press)—Chicago prohibition agents here today following the return from a two weeks' investigation in three states stated that they had uncovered a plot to flood Chicago and other large cities in the central states with grain alcohol to be used in making "hotleg" whisky. They said the principals had been arrested at Columbus, Ohio, and that five car loads of alcohol had been confiscated in four different cities.

The investigation was started three weeks ago following the arrest of Noel J. Burns, former Ohio University student, who was taken by prohibition agents, when they allege he attempted to unload a car load of alcohol here. He said the alcohol had been shipped to him to be sold to Chicago druggists and that he was a representative of the Consolidated Drug Company in Columbus.

There, they say, they found that several business men had bought 100,000 gallons of alcohol from the government to be denatured, but the agents say that instead it was shipped to other cities to be sold to saloon keepers. Other cities where car loads lots were seized, were Wheeling, W. Va., Dayton, Ohio, and Covington, Ky.

SCALE FOREMEN KILLS SELF
TOLEDO, O., February 25.—(By the Associated Press)—No session of the Toledo Store & Range Company, George Mould, 48, a foreman of the Toledo Scale Company, committed suicide by allowing a New York Central freight train to pass over his body here early today.

Witnesses say he took off his glasses, placed them on a window sill of the stove company and then walked to the track, placing his neck over the rails in the path of a backing freight train. His head was cut off before the startled witnesses realized what was taking place. Police are unable to assign a reason for the man's act.

NO SESSION OF TRIAL

Well Nourished Bodies Radiate Attraction

What Thin Frail People Need to Build Firm Flesh and Restore the Charm of Youth Is a Course of Tanlac

THERE is a certain irresistible attraction about a well-rounded form, full cheeks and the coloring that tells of boundless health and capacity. It attracts the healthy because of their instinctive desire to associate with others having life vigor to their own, and it attracts the weak because the more one needs health, the more evidence of its possession by others appeals to them.

Oh, the heartaches, the disappointments and the bitterness that are the lot of the under-nourished, thin, emaciated, angular men and women. Not only have they usually lost most of their physical attraction, but too often their minds have also become embittered, and warped so that they are not deemed as companions by normally healthy and cheerful people. They look out on life through dark spectacles, missing the thousand joys that crowd each moment for the more fortunate ones.

And, if only they knew it, thrown off without even knowing there was such an attack. It is probable that thousands of persons who die from infectious diseases would not have been even sick had their bodies been prepared to meet the disease as a well-nourished body would.

Anybody can now gain this degree of health. Tanlac will restore the organs of digestion and of elimination to their normal condition. If you are under weight, suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia, biliousness, bad headaches, get a bottle of Tanlac today from your druggist. Start at once the Tanlac treatment. It will do for you what it has already done for so many thousands of others.

Tanlac is sold in Portsmouth by Fishel & Streich Pharmacy and by leading druggists everywhere.—Advertisement as nature intended.

Manslaughter Charged Against Driver Of Death Car

Wm. F. Evans Faces Serious Charge Following Death Of Man In Auto Crash

THE DEAD
Charles Molinder, aged 56, skull crushed. Died within an hour. He resided at 717 Eighth street.

THE INJURED
William F. Evans, 1607 Seventh street, injured about face, head and shoulders, but not seriously.
Tim Ross, 1607 Seventh street, injured about arms and back.
Frank Cramer, 3331 Stanton avenue, New Boston, bruises about face and head, but not serious.

Following the death of Charles Molinder, aged 56, a roller in the Whitaker-Glessner plant in an automobile accident near the George Hill home on the West Side, early Friday evening, William F. Evans, driver of the big seven passenger touring car, was arrested and lodged in the county jail.

In municipal court this morning, Evans, who is a well known roller in the Whitaker-Glessner plant, was charged with manslaughter, the charge being made by Prosecuting Attorney George W. Sheppard, after he had investigated the accident. The affidavit was signed by Sheriff Rickey and Evans was formally charged with manslaughter. When arraigned in municipal court he pleaded not guilty and his hearing was set for Friday, March 3, at 10:00 a. m. His bond was fixed at $2,500 and it was given.

Evans Makes Statement
The only statement Evans made was that to avoid hitting another machine coming at a high rate of speed and in opposite direction, he swerved the car to the left of the road and when he attempted to steer the car back on the road, it swerved to the right and turned over when it struck some soft dirt just off the brick paving.

When the car upset, Molinder, who shared the front seat with Evans, evidently was flung from the machine as his body was found on the paved roadway and 15 feet from the scene of the accident. He died just after reaching Hempstead Hospital, his death being caused by a fractured skull.

Robert Ratcliff, who is employed on the George Hill farm, was an eye witness to the accident and was the first man to reach the machine. He helped to extricate Evans and Cramer, who were not badly hurt. It was said to crawl from under the machine without assistance.

Mr. Ratcliff told Sheriff Rickey this morning that the Evans machine was being driven at a high rate of speed and he heard it coming north long before he saw it. "As the car came near to where we were piling lumber it swerved off to the left side of the road and almost hit a post and telephone pole near the gate leading to Mr. Hill's corn crib and barn," Mr. Ratcliff said this morning.

When the car was pulled back on the road it darted to the right and turned over just after it left the paved road. It struck some soft dirt and this caused the car to turn completely over," Mr. Ratcliff says. He saw no other machine coming in an opposite direction and did not see anyone but the Evans car. Henry Winder, who is also employed on the Hill farm, says he saw the accident, and that the Evans car was traveling at a high rate of speed and going towards Lucasville.

Coroner J. D. Hendrickson investigated the scene of the accident this morning and secured statements from the eye witnesses.

The accident, occurred about 200 yards from the Tremper cottage, on the Hayman hill on the West Side, or directly in front of the gate leading to Mr. Hill's barn and corn crib. Evans says he left the city about 5:30 o'clock for a spin around the flag.

Admits He Was Drinking
Evans admitted to officers that he had been drinking slightly, but said that he was not driving over 25 miles an hour.

Coroner Views Body
After leaving the road, the car rolled completely over and landed right side up in the old canal cut. It was almost miraculous that the other occupants of the machine escaped serious injury as the car was completely wrecked. The top was torn off, the steering wheel was smashed, the spokes of the steering wheel smashed, two wheels taken off and the body and engine smashed and mangled.

The four occupants of the death machine, all of whom were steelworkers, had been at the mill during the day to sign up for their pay. Evans told the officers, and that late in the afternoon, they decided to take a ride around the West Side to Lucasville and back to the city by the way of Scioto Trail. He said that there was no drinking in the machine during the ride but said that he had taken a few drinks before. He said that he was not drunk and that he was able to control his car perfectly. When he was taken from the hospital by county officers when it was found that he was not seriously injured he was taken to the jail and questioned.

Coroner Hendrickson called at the Windel morgue last night and after a careful examination of the dead man, said that death had been caused by a fractured skull. When the body was brought to the morgue from the hospital his face was entirely covered with blood from his nose and mouth which had also drenched his shirt and coat. He was dressed in working clothes and evidently had not been home to clean up.

The dead man's son and wife reside in Dayton and they were apprised of the tragedy by telephone. The wife suffered a severe shock when the news was broken to her and the son wired back that he would be unable to come on account of her condition. Elmer Molinder of 1905 Timmonds avenue is a brother of the dead man and he was instructed to have the body sent to Dayton, where burial will be made. News of the man's death was not received by Elmer Molinder until a telegram was received from the son in Dayton giving instructions as to the disposition of the body. It was not known that the man had any relatives in this city and because of the letter found in his pocket the undertaker got into touch with the dead man's son.

First To Reach Scene
George Hill, caretaker of the Tremper farm, was one of the first to reach the scene of the accident. He says that there was no sign of a collision between two machines. The officers believe that Evans, who was said by eye-witnesses to have been driving at a high rate of speed, lost control of the machine at the curve in the road and that he was unable to halt the car in its wild plunge over the bank into the canal bed. When the auto came to arrest it was right side up and headed toward the pavement. There is little doubt but that it turned over at least twice in its wild descent as the top was completely wrecked while nothing but scrap is left of the body of the car.

The front of the machine, with the exception of the driver's seat, escaped with the least damage. At Evans had not been thrown clear of the machine, he would no doubt have been pinned under the wheel and the mass of wreckage which represents all that is left of the big seven passenger touring car.

Mr. Hill removed the tools and other valuables from the auto and took them to his home. Employees of the Friel garage who were called, brought back the license tags and a spare tire from the scene of the accident. Mr. Evans owns the car, which bore license number 220457.

Was Steady And Sober Man
Charles Molinder, who met a tragic end in the accident, came to this city but a few months ago to go to work as a roller in the sheet mill at the steel plant. He had worked in this city once before and had many friends among the mill workers. Naturally quiet he was always regarded as a sober and steady citizen and was never known to have taken a drop of liquor. When his friends learned of the manner in which he met his death, they expressed complete surprise as he always enjoyed a fine reputation.

During his stay in the city he roomed at the home of Mrs. Augusta Schlemmer, 717 Eighth street and she said last night that he was always in his room when he was not at his work or out for his meals. She said she had always looked on him as a steady worker and a home loving man and that he seldom went out side of the house except during his working hours. He had just finished up on the shift that ends at the steel plant at midnight Thursday.

Son Is A Doctor
Acquaintances of the dead man said that he was a steady man and that he was always talking of his family, especially his son whom he had helped set up in business as a physician at Dayton. "The son, Dr. Manuel Molinder, had just recently graduated from medical college and was getting a start in his chosen profession with the aid of his father. Letters found in the dead man's pockets by which his identity became known were from his son and told of the start he was making in his practice. He took a great deal of pride in his son and was continually talking about his accomplishments and longing for the time when he and his wife and son would be together again. It was a common topic with him among his acquaintances and friends and while at work and at most times he would broach the subject.

The victim of the accident was a man of about five feet, five inches in height and weighed apparently in the neighborhood of 180 pounds. He was well built, heavy set with black hair and eyes. His face was so mutilated as the result of the accident that it was not until later that he could be recognized by friends. A number of steel workers called at the Windel morgue last night and after viewing the body positively identified it as Mr. Molinder.

While Evans was in the hospital he did not seem to be fully in his senses and he did not know when Molinder died and the body was removed. When apprised of the fact that his companion had met his death, Evans said that he was sorry but explained to the officers that it was not his fault that he had been killed.

Mrs. William Evans came to the hospital and visited her husband when she heard of the accident. She expected to find him seriously injured if not dying but instead found that a bruised face was the limit of his injuries. Shortly after his wife left the hospital he announced that he was ready to leave and called for his clothes. County officers who were present, placed him under arrest and took him to the county jail.

Blood Clots On Pavement
For a number of feet near the spot where the body of Molinder was picked up his clots of blood were lying and it is evident that he had a hemorrhage while unconscious in the road. Blood was also spattered about the side of the wrecked automobile. It was a gruesome sight which met the eyes of the first to arrive on the scene—two bodies lying stretched out on the pavement, blood running from the mouth and nose of the accident victim and the badly wrecked automobile.

Mr. Molinder's native home was in Newport, Ky., and he had worked for some years in the mills there. When work became slack there and he was out of a job he came to Portsmouth where he had formerly worked and took a job as a roller at the sheet mill. He was always known as a faithful and reliable worker and had given satisfaction at the big mill.

The Survivors
Mr. Molinder, who was 56 years of age, is survived by his wife, Mrs. Charles Molinder, and son, Dr. Manuel Molinder of Dayton, and a brother, Elmer Molinder of this city.

THREE MEN RUN DOWN BY TRUCK; DRIVER BEING HELD

Chester Hollingsworth, 25, colored, single, Andrew McClary, 40, white, married, and Joe Miller, 32, white, married, all of George on Scioto Trail were injured when struck and knocked down by a two ton Willy's Knight truck driven by a young man giving the name of W. A. Minch, of Chillicothe on Scioto Trail in front of the John T. Snedaker home Friday night about six o'clock. Minch arrested by Sheriff E. E. Rickey and Deputy Frank Bennett at the scene of the accident is held in jail for investigation. No charge having been placed against him. This afternoon Sheriff Rickey said that the condition of the injured men was being watched and that the extent of their injuries would come out in a probable charge against Minch who claims he had been to Portsmouth to see about an automobile he owned here. County officers will also investigate this part of his story they thinking it strange that Minch would drive a two-ton truck here on such a business trip.

While the men were thought to have been seriously injured last night it was found this morning that no bones had been broken and that Hollingsworth the first one struck and who suffered cuts and lacerations of the face and head and knee was the worst injured. Hollingsworth is in Hempstead hospital while the other two men are at their homes at George.

At Hempstead hospital this morning Hollingsworth said that he lives in Davis Hollow back of George and that all three men had been working in the hollow cutting ties for Taylor and Brant of Lucasville.

According to Hollingsworth it was about six o'clock when they left George to walk to Lucasville. The injured man says that they noticed two machines coming behind them but they turned around near the Snedaker farm and started back towards Portsmouth. Hollingsworth claimed all three were walking on the berm on the right side of the paved road when the truck struck them. They were walking single file with Hollingsworth in the rear.

Hollingsworth says they did not hear any sound of an automobile approaching and that they were struck and knocked down before they knew what was happening. All three were knocked down, Hollingsworth being hurled to the paved road. His face was skinned and cut on the brick paving. He claims that the truck did not stop and that the driver did not return while the officers find that the machine was stopped after traveling the distance of three telegraph poles.

A machine driven by a young man came along and brought all three injured men to the hospital where Dr. J. W. Fitch attended them.

Miller suffered a severe bruise and slight cut on the cheek bone while McClary suffered a cut on the forehead. Both men left the hospital last night. Hollingsworth lost pieces of his front teeth besides suffering numerous cuts and bruises about the face. His right cheek was badly swollen today his right eye being closed. His mouth is also badly bruised. He will be able to leave the hospital in a short time.

After the injured men were on their way to the hospital Minch attempted to start his truck but found that the engine would not move. He went to the Snedaker home and called a local garage. Snedaker got in touch with the Sheriff's office and told Sheriff Rickey of the accident and that of fear told Snedaker to keep an eye on Minch until they arrived.

The officers found imprints of the tires of the truck on the berm at the side of the paved road. They showed the machine had traveled about 30 feet on the berm. Minch according to the officers claimed a machine behind him had a spotlight and that the light thrown ahead of him prevented him from seeing the men. He could not offer an explanation as to what he was doing on the berm when there was plenty of driving room on the paved road.

SOCIETY
The second of a series of monthly socials will be given by the Eastern Stars at their rooms in the Masonic Temple Tuesday afternoon. The affair will be held from two until four o'clock, and all members are cordially invited. An impromptu program and social hour will be enjoyed.

The hostess for the afternoon will be Mrs. O. Barthol, Mrs. J. K. Colter, Mrs. H. B. Anderson, Mrs. Frank Dages, Mrs. J. Ailes, Mrs. Paul Bauer, Mrs. Sue Bailey, Mrs. George Clark, Mrs. Samuel Ashpaw and Mrs. N. Briggs.

Mrs. Frank Lawrence, who is well known here is visiting her mother, Mrs. E. L. Griffiths, 312 Bond street, who has been ill for several weeks. Mrs. Lawrence came here from New York City, and after leaving this city will spend a few days with her daughter, Mrs. David Stanbaugh of Youngstown, before returning to her home in Los Angeles.

The meeting of the Buckeye Club to have been held with Mrs. C. E. Dawling yesterday afternoon, has been postponed until a later date.

The usual Sunday afternoon tea will be held in the Girls' Community clubrooms, 613 Chillicothe street tomorrow. All club members are cordially invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Mayhew, Pittsburg are visiting several days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Hurlb, Jr., Second street enroute to Marion, Ohio.

Modern Woodmen To Have New Degree

At Friday night's meeting of the Modern Woodmen of America plans were discussed for the organization of an Oriental Degree here, the degree to be an extra degree of the Woodmen. Deputy James Starlin is in charge of this work and any who wish to join should get in touch with him.

Lester Dodner, H. M. Vogler and Arthur Hollman were given degree work last night. The new degree is in charge of Charles Doll. Ten candidates were favorably initiated upon last night and they will form part of a big class to be taken in early in April.

Chicago Grain And Provisions

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—Wheat started 3/4c to a cent lower on the Chicago board of trade today, but quickly rallied to above yesterday's finish. Initial prices were 1.44 1/2@1.47 1/2 for May and 1.23 1/2 to 1.24 for July. Easy Liverpool prices and prospects of further moisture in the southwest caused the break, but there was some immediate covering and when Argentine cables predicted a reduction of from ten to twenty million bushels in the exportable surplus, considerable fresh buying developed. Selling on the bulge by local professionals and commission houses were readily absorbed.

ALLEGED BIGAMIST DENIES GUILT

SAYS POMERENE WILL POLL ENOUGH VOTES TO WIN DESPITE STRENGTH OF ANY OPPONENT

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 25.—Senator Pomerene will poll the full Democratic vote and enough of the independent and silent vote to elect him, no matter who his Republican opponent may be. This is the word brought back to Washington by the Senator's secretary, Arthur P. Black, following a series of conferences in Cleveland and Columbus covering a period of five days. "Anyone who believes this claim an exaggeration has only to go to Ohio and engage the rank and file as well as the leaders of both parties in conversation on senatorial candidates," he added. While in the two cities named Black made it a point to consult Republicans as well as Democrats. He found life-long Republicans trying with original Pomerene disciples in their praises of the Senator's constructive statesmanship, and the promptness and efficiency with which he serves his constituents who consult him for information on pending legislative problems, governmental policies, and for assistance in departmental matters. "When we write Senator Pomerene we always get a reply that tells us something worth while," one of the leading Republicans in Cleveland told Black. "He does not always voice our view, but we always know his view, and why he holds it. He never camouflages. His record is one of courage and candor. He bears to the line, regardless of political consequences. This and again he has shown himself to be more than a party man, and by so doing he has made clear to Republicans as well as Democrats his desire to do that which he believes to be for the good of all. Senator Pomerene's sincerity is admitted by every thinking man and woman, whether or not they may always agree with him. His ability to solve intricate questions involving the science of banking, the management of railroads, the problems of revenue and tariff legislation, our international relations, and kindred subjects, has been a revelation to all of us. While Senator Pomerene is a regular party man he is never an offensively partisan, and his refusal to play politics with legislation, national or international, has won for him a host of friends among Republicans. There are enough such Republicans to make the Senator's reelection sure. No man could have represented Ohio in the United States Senate during the past decade, and have come through with a cleaner or better record."

Commenting on this testimony on behalf of his chief Black said: "I'll admit it listens like press agent literature put out by a partisan booster, but it isn't. It was given me personally by a Cleveland Republican business man whose name is familiar to every organization leader in both parties in Cuyahoga county. Moreover, such testimony is typical rather than exceptional. I heard it from down state friends whom I met while in Cleveland, as well as from those living in Cleveland. It was the same testimony given the Senator himself on his recent speaking trip when he visited Dayton, Zanesville, Columbus and Cincinnati, and met many voters in both parties from all over the northern half of the state. I mention this fact to show the sentiment for Senator Pomerene's reelection runs through the state, and is not confined to any particular location. Our friends in both parties tell us it is everywhere."

Asked to specify some of the reasons advanced for the Senator's reelection, aside from those quoted from his Cleveland friend, Black answered:

"One argument going the rounds relates to the rule of seniority, which prevails in the senate. Every one knows the real work of the senate is done in committee. No matter who might be elected as Senator Pomerene's successor he would have to begin at the bottom and wait for time or death to place him at the top or near the top. At the best it is a slow process. Senator Pomerene will have been in the senate eleven years within a week—March 4th. There have been numerous deaths during that time. At this time he is the ranking member or next to the ranking member on several of the most important committees—a position coveted by every senator because it adds tremendously to his influence and power in shaping legislation. No new senator could hope, until after a period of years, to wield the influence in the real work of the senate that Senator Pomerene wields."

"Another reason being urged in the senator's interest is being urged in the interest of better government, also. It is that it will be for the best interests of Ohio to have both parties represented in the congress. At this time Senator Pomerene is the only Democrat in the Ohio delegation of twenty-four. I found many Republicans who freely asserted the overwhelming majority is neither a good thing for their party nor for the most efficient government, and that the best thing that can happen to the Republican party this year is to have its representation in the congress very substantially reduced. Coming from Democrats such an argument would at once be discounted on the ground it was purely partisan, but coming from Republicans it is significant."

"Again, one of the senator's very best assets, referred to frequently, is that during his two terms in the senate he always has been doing something for somebody, and that he does it promptly and faithfully. Never, as during my visit in Cleveland, did I have impressed so indelibly upon my mind the vital importance of looking after requests of every kind promptly and effectively. It always has been a hobby in the senator's office to give real attention to every request. Nothing is too insignificant to receive the senator's consideration. As the result, for years has been flowing through his office a volume of correspondence that otherwise would have gone to some congressman or the other Ohio senator. There is no more accommodating man in public life than Senator Pomerene. He aims to please. He will reap his reward at the polls next November. It is still true that 'bread east upon the waters will return'—with interest."

"The situation in Ohio, so far as Senator Pomerene is concerned, is the exact reverse of the situation in 1916. This statement applies to his own party as well as to independent voters in other parties. There never has been a time since the senator has been in public life when Democratic organization workers throughout the state were so united or so enthusiastic or so confident in their support of his candidacy. They are all 'original Pomerene men' in 1922. There are no doubts or misgivings anywhere. Nor is there any particular interest in who the senator's opponent may be. When that question is broached this invariably is the answer: 'It makes no difference. They all have their strong points, and they all have their weak points. There isn't a Republican in the state who can defeat Pomerene. They all look alike to us.'"

SELECTS WIN IN EXTRA PERIOD

Accused to come into court to testify. Attorneys Rannon and Bannan and H. F. Kimble for plaintiffs and Blair and Blair for the defense.

Continued For Further Evidence
Judge Thomas heard the evidence in the divorce and alimony suit of Clara Jenkins, 1217 Findlay street, against James Jenkins, Chillicothe, in Common Pleas court Saturday and then continued the case for further evidence.

They were married in October, 1908, in Chillicothe and the wife charged cruelty and neglect. She told the court that Jenkins frequently abused and mistreated her and asserted that he squandered his earnings for drink and in gambling. She stated that the defendant's conduct toward her became such that she was forced to leave him three times in 1920, the last time in October, since when they have been separated. They have two minor sons, the youngest of which lives with the plaintiff in this city. The wife was represented by Attorney Walter L. Dicker.

Sells To Sell Church Property
In an application filed in Common Pleas court Saturday the trustees of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, are seeking authority of the court to sell the church property situated at 820 Second street and invest the proceeds of the sale in another site. The application was filed through Attorney A. T. Holcomb.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 25.—The Portsmouth Selects and the Newark Heiseys were victors this morning in the semi-finals of the central states independent basketball tournament on the local Y. M. C. A. floor.

The Selects defeated the Piqua Y 29 to 23, and the Heiseys defeated Columbus Y 27 to 23.

The Portsmouth and Newark teams will battle in the finals this afternoon and the victor will represent Ohio in the central states tournament at Indianapolis March 4.

SOCIETY
A large and appreciative audience attended the program presented at Bigelow church last night by a group of Portsmouth's foremost singers, under the auspices of the Ladies' Musical.

The program presented included some of the most famous of the sacred selections, among them "Boschings," "Inflammatus Et," taken from the Stabat Mater, and Mauders' "Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem."

The program commenced promptly at 8:15 o'clock with Elgar's Organ Prelude "Pomp and Circumstance," capably rendered by Mrs. Samuel Timmonds. The "Inflammatus Et" was given by Miss Bertha Staiger, one of the city's noted soprano singers, with the accompaniment of the augmented chorus of twenty voices.

Watson Goddard rendered the baritone solo "Ask Me No More" from Sprouss. A male quartette composed of Messrs. Watson Goddard, James Wood, Chester Riggles and James Yelley gave Park's "Until the Dawn."

Among the delightful features of the evening's program was a charming rendition of several of Cadman's "Indian Transcriptions" with Mrs. Timmonds at the organ, and Miss Margaret Stahler presiding at the piano.

The chorus "Festival Te Deum" was among the most beautiful of the selections given, with solo numbers by Miss Staiger, Mrs. Pearl Selby, Messrs. Goddard, Yelley, and Riggles. A mixed quartette consisting of Mr. Goddard, Mrs. Selby, Miss Staiger, and Mr. Riggles, gave Spicker's "Dear Ye Not, O Lord."

The final solo number on the program, given by Miss Staiger, was an adaptation from Handel's famous Largo, "Love Ye the Lord." The Verdi, "Praise Ye," was given by a mixed trio, including Miss Staiger, Mr. Goddard and Mr. Riggles. Mauders' "Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem," closed the evening's program, which was one of exceptional merit, and rendered in the most pleasing manner.

The personnel of the choir included sopranos: Misses Bertha Staiger, Hattie Marguerite, Irma Hopkins, Miriam Seader, Margaret Neudorfer, Ethel Lakeman, Mary Holmes, Mrs. Maurice Haywood, Mrs. Ruth Collins, Mrs. L. E. Butler, Contraltos: Misses Katherine Branch, Gladys Selby, Ida Mercer, Mrs. C. B. Foster and Mrs. Pearl Selby.

Tenors: Chester Riggles, James Yelley, H. M. Baker and Salem Shaw.

Bassos: Watson Goddard, James Wood, Walter Wood and P. E. Selby. This concluded the free musical concert offered by the Ladies' Musical. The next meeting will be on Monday, March 6th and will be for members only.

The Woman's Bible Class of the First Baptist church and their teacher, Rev. H. Stewart Tillis, were entertained Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dowder, 1904 Union avenue. After the business session the evening was spent socially and later refreshments were served. Those present were Mrs. Jean Gower, Mrs. Truss Lynn, Mrs. Charles Newman, Mrs. Barney Dowder and daughters, Gladys and Olive, Mrs. Jessie Bole, Mrs. Charles Gillett, Mrs. Ed Patterson, Mrs. Charles Robbins, Mrs. George Carson, Mrs. Anna Backett, Mrs. Robert Sutter, Mrs. J. B. Fullerton, Mrs. Joseph Doll, Mrs. John Long, Mrs. R. Stuart Tillis, Mrs. Edith Chambers, of the class members. Others present were Misses Catherine Chambers, Ruth Carson, Warren Dillon, Frank Pilling, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gower and daughter, Sara Jane.

Miss Maud Wilson was hostess of a delightful little dancing party last evening in honor of her cousin, James Burns, of Kenova, W. Va. Dancing and cards were the diversions of the evening and prior to their leave-taking the hostess served a delicious refreshment course to Misses Ruth York, Gladys Doty, Nancy Grimes, Sara Louise Walker, Persis Bannan, Ruth Hannah, Helen Yelley and Margaret Ackley; Messrs. James Burns, James Duhitt, Harry McGuire and Everett Hayes.

Mrs. Andrew Glass and small son, Alex, of Wheeling, W. Va., are visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. J. H. Varner, of Timmonds avenue.

Mrs. Harry Tressler and Mrs. Franklin Page spent yesterday in Columbus.

Miss Edie Shackelford has been called to Oak Hill by the illness of her niece, Miss Frances Shackelford.

Misses Alberta Maier and Catherine Cassidy have returned from a several days' visit in Ashland, Ky.

Miss Marjorie Foster, Gallia street has returned from a short visit with friends in Cincinnati.

The members of the Friday Sewing Club enjoyed a delightful meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Alice Dever on Gallia street. Knitting and needle work furnished diversion for the afternoon and at five o'clock a refreshment course was passed about. This was the last meeting until after the Lenten season.

Miss Lucie Chick welcomed the members of the D. H. B. Sewing Club Friday evening at her home on Monmouth place. Music, games and sewing were the diversions of the evening and later a delicious salad course was passed about. A color scheme of red, white and blue was carried out in deference to George Washington's birthday. The favors were baskets of cherries and little lathes. Those present were Thelma Kidd, Louise Beatty, Lorena Marr, Thelma, Marjorie and Lucie Chick.

Lucie Stone who is employed at Portsmouth is visiting his mother, brothers and sisters here.

LOCAL BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT OPENS

Confiscate Non-Game Birds

The Ironout Register of Friday said: "S. Game Warden F. D. Voorhees, of Scioto county, and Gordon Guthrie, of Lawrence county, Thursday afternoon confiscated quite a collection of insectivorous and non-game birds, held in possession of a local business man. The warden prohibited the possession, dead or alive, or any part thereof, of such birds. The birds are being held as evidence and Messrs. Guthrie and Voorhees will consult A. C. Baxter, chief of the bureau of fish and game, of Ohio, relative to prosecution in the case. The birds being held are the eagle, blue heron, a number of species of ducks, flukes, jays, warblers, night crested herons, coots, blue-birds, and others."

The game warden claim that the birds make a beautiful display and encourage hunters to kill them for stuffing or other purposes and that a campaign has been begun all over Ohio to secure all these stuffed exhibits.

Death Claims J. C. Turley

Joseph C. Turley, who, a number of years ago was quite well known in local railroad circles through his service as chief clerk to former Supr. V. S. Kilton of the Norfolk and Western when the division headquarters of the railroad were moved from Kenova to this city in 1900, died at his home in Bluefield, W. Va., Friday night.

Turley was stationed here a little less than two years before he was transferred to Bluefield where he continued in the service of the N. and W. until twelve years ago when he retired and engaged in the coal business which he conducted successfully. He was a native of Ironout where he was born 46 years ago and he is survived by a wife and children. He was a splendid man and many old friends in this city learned today of his passing away with a feeling of genuine sorrow.

High School To Give Minstrel

The Black and White Frolic is the title of the minstrel show that will be given in the high school auditorium next Wednesday and Thursday nights by high school students. In the first part 27 students will take part. In the olio a small number will be seen, while in the second or last part, the minstrel is being directed by the John B. Rodgers Company, who have put on several successful home talent plays here.

The students will have special costumes and a grandstand of scenery will be brought here for the show. Rehearsals are being held daily, and judging from the work of the students so far, the show is going to be one of the best ever put up by local talent.

Tickets for the show are already on sale. Seats downstairs will sell for 75 cents, while the balcony seats sell for 50 cents. Seats will be reserved starting at three o'clock Monday afternoon at Brandau's bookstore.

This afternoon in the New Boston high school gym the southeastern high school tournament for girls was opened with the Beaver and Sciotoville girls playing the only elimination game. Although sixteen teams were invited only three entered. New Boston being the third.

The drawing this afternoon found New Boston getting the blank which left it up to Beaver and Sciotoville to play this afternoon to eliminate one team. The winner will meet New Boston girls tonight in the final game to decide the girls' championship of southeastern Ohio.

Wilfred Laybourn was referee in charge of the afternoon game while Coach McComb will be the official in charge tonight.

Tonight starting at 7:30 o'clock a preliminary game will be played between the second team from New Boston high school and a team selected from P. H. S. by Coach McComb.

An added feature tonight will be the music to be furnished by a string orchestra and singers from the school. The music will be rendered between halves and between games. Those taking part will be Josephine Chase, Mary York, Ann MacDunnen, Joe Zulan, Stephen Lewis, Carl Allbaugh and Clay Deem.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Henry Beals
Word was received by local relatives this morning, of the death of Mrs. Henry Beals, which took place at her home, 314 Quincy street, Ironout, at ten-thirty o'clock, Friday night, after a lingering illness with tuberculosis.

Mrs. Beals' death marks the third in the family from the same disease. Her son, Arthur Beals, contracted tuberculosis while serving in the late war and died two years ago. His mother and sister, Mrs. Althea Fausin, contracted the disease from him, the sister dying a few months ago. Mrs. Beals was survived by her husband and one daughter, Mrs. John Abbott, of Kenova. She also leaves a brother, Clay Steyer, of Franklin avenue, and a sister, Mrs. George Grace, of Ninth street, this city. Mrs. Beals was 51 years of age and spent the greater part of her life at Haverhill, this county. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Funeral of Mrs. Haney
Funeral services for Mrs. Howard Haney, of 2017 Robinson avenue, who died Thursday noon, will be held from the Pentecostal church on Sixth street near Broadway at two o'clock Monday afternoon, with Rev. John Stroup, of South Solon, O., in charge. Burial will be in Greenlawn.

Will, and sons Mansel and Kilburn. Paul Foster, and team members Clark, Sprague, Womeldorf, Murdoch, Craig, Smiley, Weitz.</

Sunday Services In Scioto County Churches

Church attendance is an investment in better community life. The churches of Portsmouth stand for the highest of ideals; the best and cleanest living; business principals above reproach; and individual living expressive of Christian ideals.

Man is by nature, a religious creature. Psychologists have established beyond doubt that religion is one of the basic instincts of the human race. Religion, as we have it today, has reached the highest form of development known to man. With the progress of religion has gone the progress of the race. There is, in Portsmouth, an expression of religion for every man, and woman, and child. All are seeking one great end; all are filled with the same purpose; all are giving evidence of taking; all are helping and cheering; and all are contributing to the morale of the community. A great theologian has expressed it thus: Religion is man's recognition of, and relationship with, a Supreme Being. Back in the early days of the existence of the race, that recognition and that relationship was based on fear. The gods of the ancients were terrible and hideous. God, today, as we have come to understand Him, is Love. Religion, in history's yesterdays was one of terror. Today it is one of cheer.

Religion is not doing something, it is being something. A man's "being" is a result of his "doing." As we are, so we act. Go to church tomorrow with a high purpose to live the teaching of your God. Then act throughout the week in accordance with that purpose. The greatest ruler of antiquity, a man whose lineage was honored beyond all other, said "I was glad when they said unto me, let us go into the house of the Lord."

SOCIETY
The P. A. K. Club members were delightedly entertained last evening at the home of Miss Martha Burkhardt on Front street. The meeting was in the nature of a birthday celebration in honor of the hostess, and the members showered her with many pretty and useful gifts. A color scheme of red, white and blue was used in the decorations and the evening was spent in games, music and social chat. Later a delicious ice course was served. The favors were small course bonnets. Those present were Misses Martha Burkhardt, Jeanette Reilly, Edna Wallace, Agnes Taylor, Norma McNeal, Ruth Stanshorn, Goldie Young, Marie Seidlicher, Avis Smith, Edith Cunniff, Gernet Schuler and Mrs. Julius Bauman. Miss Bess Seely was a guest for the evening. After the meeting the club members went to the home of Mrs. Julius Bauman, where they enjoyed a slumber party.

Rev. Powell Home

Sims Claims Navy Dept. Inadequate
MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., February 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—The navy department has the same organization now that it had during the war and with such an organization you can neither prepare for war nor fight a war when it comes, declared Rear Admiral W. S. Sims in an address here last night before the Twin Cities Bond Club.
An organization such as that in the navy department, Admiral Sims said, would not be tolerated were the public enlightened as to what he termed the true conditions. Newspapers, he said, should hire military experts to write on naval and other problems of national defense.

BANKRUPTCY PROCEEDINGS

LARGEST FAMILIES TO GET CARNATIONS

One of the features of Whole family at First Christian tomorrow will be the presentation of a half dozen carnations to the largest family present. There will be some competition for this prize as there are a number of large families connected with the church and Bible school and most of them attend pretty regularly.
A showing of four generations is promised in the Bible family, we are told, and this too will be some feature to be noticed.
No intimation as to who will be the lucky family has as yet been given out but a number of folks have indicated that they were in competition for this honor.
The officers of the school contemplate a large number of one hundred per cent families present as they have ordered more than eight dozen carnations for the day.

GREAT INTEREST IN BIBLE STUDY

The interest in Bible study is growing every week at the First Baptist church. The attendance for the Bible studies and prayer meetings held on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week was over 375. In addition to the Bible Institute program, the adult classes of our Bible school are taking up a systematic study of the Bible by books. They are now with the exception of the Barnes studying the book of Romans. The Barnes class are using "Schaff's Bible," which is a systematic study of the Bible by subjects. It gives great joy to see with what eagerness these young men hang on to each word as it falls from the lips of the teacher. The great interest manifested in all departments of the church in Bible study proves the fact that the old book still stands amid the fire of the critics.

A LENT WITH JESUS

Just as has been called the Great Companion. It is a good description of Him. Next Wednesday by far the vast majority of all professing Christians will commence their Lenten fast. It is well to bear in mind that those who do not observe Lent in any way are not, in any complete sense, followers of Christ. Those who love Him delight to follow in His steps. Most Christians in Portsmouth will "keep Lent" in some way or another. The way to keep it is to go so with the consciousness that you are keeping it with Jesus. At the morning service at All Saints' church tomorrow, at ten-thirty, the Rector will preach on "A Lent With Jesus." He asks all his people to be present and invites others who wish to learn the value and purpose of the Lenten life to attend. At the seven o'clock service in the evening Mr. Powell will preach on "The Value of Truth in Life." This will be a sermon for men and women who think.

LADIES' AID WILL ENTERTAIN

The Ladies' Aid Society of Trinity Church will hold a general social for the families of the congregation and will use two evenings, for the occasion. The object is the exercise of Christian sociability among those who are of the same congregation and who seldom devote their time to getting acquainted.
On Monday evening those present should comprise Groups 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8, and on Tuesday they should comprise Groups 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15. The basement rooms will be used for the occasion. The orchestra of the Sunday school, led by Miss Alice Blake, will furnish music. Mr. C. C. Bennett will direct the entertainment and the members will fulfill the plans by the finest of informality. The occasional attendant upon Trinity church may be assured of a cordial welcome.

NOTHING LIKE POLITENESS

MUCH to the surprise of the nation and the disgust of those so sternly pledged to conducting a party government, the bush league treaties, instead of going through slicker than if they were greased, have struck a hidden rock in the chartered course and are sadly in danger of going to total wreck.

When they came up for consideration by the senate they appeared unexpectedly in a reservation resolution, which took all the substance out of them, just as Lodge and others proposed of the treaty of Versailles. As the head of the committee, none other than Lodge himself, was hoisted by his petard, so to speak, he became totally flabbergasted and for a time didn't know where he "was at." When his amazement had passed away he tried to treat the resolutions as a joke. Finding this would not go he, pulling some more of his cute politics, proposed that the question of reservation be submitted to the White House, before action, with the idea that a mutually satisfactory agreement might be reached concerning them. To this the reservationists graciously consented, with the proviso that the President could take the reservations or leave them, as they would stand as offered in either event.

Lodge has a reservation spell, in which he can find out just how strong the reservationists are, so reach a conclusion as to whether to crush them, or devise something "mutually satisfactory," that will gracefully cover defeat.

THE FATHER OF HIS COUNTRY

WEDNESDAY was George Washington's day: that is it was that legally but not a great deal such in actual fact.

It was once said of George Washington that he was first in peace, first in war and first in the hearts of his countrymen. That may have been true when uttered, but it is forgotten if we take Wednesday as evidence. Outside of the closing of the post-office and the banks there were few places, indeed, to pay reverence to the one man to whom America owes most in what it has that is really worth while; there were no fervid outbursts anywhere to show that his memory is still kept green in the land.

We wonder if this is because Washington has always been exploited most for that in which he was least admirable and neglected for that in which he was most worthy. Ordinarily he is held up as a great general, who by his military ability made independence possible. He did "win the war," but there were other commanders, even in his own army who were his equal at arms, but there was not in his day, nor has there arisen since any man, who had such a fine conception of democratic statesmanship as he had, no man who so clearly and wisely charted the course a republic should steer in security. He laid down principles of popular government, he pointed out the dangers thereof with a precision that was akin to prophesy.

But the most wonderful thing about this Father of his country was that by birth and education an aristocrat he was in every principle and practice a democrat of democrats. His creed was the people and his faith was in the people.

The schools could not serve the land better than to make a perpetual course of Washington's teachings on independence and freedom.

A MIGHTY POOR GUESS

OVER at Washington they have had the army and navy experts and statisticians, figuring on the prospective bonus bill.

If the measure is enacted it will call for a pretty fifty-sum, somewhere around 5 billion dollars. Uncle Sam, like most of his sons and nephews is hard run for cash, these days, and he is trying to find out just how much coin he will have to hand out for the bonus provides the beneficiary may elect to take his pay in any one of several ways, occupational training, money, lands, or insurance.

The experts have come to a sort of agreement that it will be a balanced split, the doughboys taking half "manila" and half the other things combined.

Utterly absurd. There will not be ten per cent that will take anything else than the cold cash. They would be foolish to do otherwise and their friends, the late enemy, will tell you that though those American boys may have been foolhardy in that little world affair, they are anything but foolish. The allowance to the man will be somewhere around $200. That isn't going to get him far in either farming, insurance or craft and he knows it. He will know enough to grab the cash, have a good time while it lasts, at least.

IF SO PRINCIPLES DIE

A collateral descendant of George Washington, writing to the country on his birthday, says he has his famous kinsman alive today, he would approve the alliance, offensive and defensive between Japan, England and the United States and would especially approve a closer drawing together between these two latter governments and France to protect the peace of the world.

Then, if the seion of a noble name speak truly, it follows that Washington's time was laid in vanity and principles have no stay throughout time.

He led in the fight against England to get out of entangling alliance with her, her domination over the colonies; in 1792, when days were fast drawing to a close he said to the American people, by way of solemn and perpetual warning: "Why quit your own to stand upon foreign ground? Why by interweaving our destiny with that of any part of Europe, entangle our peace and prosperity in the toils of European ambition, interest, honor and caprice?"

The reasons against such action are stronger than when George Washington adjured against it. Indeed, it was because he saw the perils of the future that he so solemnly warned his people and the people to come against them.

In purpose and effect America is quitting her own to stand upon foreign ground when those, who hold mastery over her propose an alliance offensive and defensive with Japan and England, she is putting herself in the toils of both European and Asiatic ambition and interest. Gentlemen may wave fine-spun explanations and protestations that no such intent and course is in hand, but English words mean what they mean and there is no escaping the fact that in the triple agreement they say America shall stand with Japan and England, whenever the interests of any one is menaced. Standing together means fighting together—it would be utter nonsense to have agreement in any other interpretation.

Gray Silver, representative of the national farm bureau, testified before a senate committee that each and every one of the 1,500,000 members of it unreservedly approved Ford's offer for the Muscle Shoals plant. That's how the voice of the people speaks, through one man, who doesn't know what they think. No farmer, who intelligently read Ford's offer intelligently could possibly approve it unreservedly. Not even Mr. Ford himself did for he has consented to make three vitally essential changes in his offer since it was submitted. Two of them were beneficial to farmers, while they were supposed to favor the Ford offer-agreement to produce commercial fertilizer and to sell it within a fixed figure of profit.

THE BIBLE IN PICTURES AND TEXT

By HELEN E. OHRENSCHALL

THE BANISHMENT

THE Lord called "Adam, where art thou?" Adam answered "I heard thy voice in the garden. I was afraid and I hid myself." But the Lord said "Hast thou eaten of the tree whereof I commanded thee that thou shouldst not eat?" Adam blamed Eve and Eve blamed the serpent. God was angry and said they should be punished. He told the woman she should have sickness and sorrow and the serpent that he should crawl on the ground all the days of his life. And God drove Adam and Eve out of the beautiful garden.

THE MORNING SUN

WE are asked frequently, "How is the Morning Sun coming along?" Quite well. It is far ahead of our expectations when it was launched. It is not what we would have it, but from a general newspaper standpoint, but we had no illusions when we started the paper. We planned for a series of years, for building up a newspaper property is not the matter of a day or a year, and it is pleasing to us to know that we are a year ahead of schedule right now. Within a year The Morning Sun will be printed in a plant of its own. The Sunday Sun and Times will most likely be continued from The Times plant, owing to its greater facilities for publishing a larger edition. The Sunday paper is showing a marvelously steady growth in favor. Last Sunday 10,442 papers were circulated, and the circulation is only limited, as compared with that of The Times, by inability to reach subscribers on the day of publication. It is our intention however to put on a truck service to serve outlying portions of the county as soon as a few connecting roads are improved so that service can be maintained the year through. Advertisers who overlook the Morning and Sunday papers are overlooking a couple of mediums that are bound to return more than value received, considering the price asked for advertising.

THIS IS TELLING 'EM

THE veterans of the World War who reside in Waverly are getting their state bonus money and you just bet your life that every man, woman, child and dog in the town is keeping a weather eye open to see how the boys spend it. It is not surprising that the spending part is the subject of a half column of gossip in the Waverly Republican Herald, but the paper takes the stand that the ex-soldiers can spend their money as they please. The Republican-Herald makes this biting comment, in the course of its article: "There has been a regular furore of gossip around town because one soldier spent $135 of his bonus for a second hand Ford. Part of the gossip says he also bought a fifty dollar ring. The last part is untrue, but when he bloomed out Sunday in that Ford, he would not have traded places with John D. Those who are the most jealous of him had the same opportunity to serve their country that he did, they have wasted more jack playing poker and buying bootleg hootch than he will ever see, and to get right down to brass tacks, what he did with his money is mighty little of their business. We predict that he will have more real enjoyment out of his compensation than all others put together."

The man who stands on the First National Bank corner every day in the year, Sundays and Holidays included, says he has under consideration an offer from a prominent citizen with reform proclivities—for other people—to earn an honest dollar on the side by smelling the breaths of every one in range and reporting suspicious odors to the aforesaid reformer.

Interesting historical note—Our anniversary reporter says that Twenty Four years ago today our ancestors regaled themselves upon a peculiar drink known as Beck Beer, the season opening with much advertising and more elat. And we suppose that 24 years from now our successors will chronicle that on February 25, 1922, men and some women indulged in a sinful weed called tobacco.

With our esteemed Dolly Wise and The Wizard both telling 'em all about it, the curious and love born in this man's town ought to manage to struggle along for a little while anyway.

SOMEBODY IS ALWAYS TAKING THE JOY OUT OF LIFE—BY BRIGGS

New York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, February 25.—Down near the Brooklyn Bridge is a (Gir Arab Africa quarter) occupying several blocks of short-run streets—a quarter that despite the open shrill of its market symphony and high pitched laughter is as mysterious as the muslin veiled, muffled women who trudge the paves.

At night the bazaars catching the glint from the hundreds of bonjot torches sparkle with color and beauty. There are latticed stalls piled high with rugs in shifting patterns, attar bottles of all hues, necklaces, earrings, anklets, lacis and silks.

Turbaned, culpine men with parchment faces haggle with each customer and puff incessantly at their cigarettes. If the customer turns away they follow him to the fringe of the district, beseeching in bastard mixtures of Arabic, English and French.

In front of the improvised mosque are half-don beggars cringing in the shadows and crying out their misery to passers-by. In the doorway a cross legged the scull bearded old men puffing at narghiles and as expressionless as the Sphinx.

The air is filled with the heavy scent of musk. There is the soft beat of drums—always far off—and that East minor wail of the Arabian night song. The table photos are filled with Occidentals, trembling slimmers in awe of the eerie magic of the quarter.

In front of one house a group of Moors in native costume made a semi-circle and chanted, now and then kneeling and turning impassive faces toward the East. In the house Yussef lay dead. Yussef, the nomad tumbler, who jumped three camels in a row—a fun encounter with a troupe on Broadway. And then one night he missed.

It is all an Arabian night in Beirut—happan—a caravan that once bariel sleep underneath Morocco's moon transported with all their vivid color and romance in the modern Bagdad on the Subway.

A new matinee idol, Georges Reneyva, a tall black haired French boy who has been here only a short while, I saw him on Forty-Second street the other afternoon wearing a plum colored overcoat with a white fur collar and a long-voiced cap, gleaming around the edges and bagged jauntily over one side. His came was strapped to his wrist and he puffed from a cigarette holder that was at least a foot and a half long. One could almost hear the flutter of feminine hearts as he passed along.

Tin Pan Alex has been hit by the uplift. The composers of catchy penny tunes declare that they abhor jazz and do not write such stuff. They blame the daisant orchestras who take the perfectly innocent moon-and-spoon melodies and fill them with meaning saxophone

No Wonder

One autumn little George entered the same kindergarten that his brother Henry had attended during the previous year. Very frequently the teacher called him Henry by mistake, until she became provoked at herself and said to him:

"I am sorry, George, but I don't know why I always call you Henry."

"I guess I know," said George, seriously. "I've got on Henry's shirt and his pants and his shoes."
